

7:45 - 8:45	REGISTER & CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST
8:45 - 9:00	WELCOME - King County Prosecutor Dan Satterberg
9:00 - 10:30	KEYNOTE: Elizabeth Loewy, A.D.A. "To Catch a Thief: Prosecuting Financial Elder Abuse."
10:30 - 10:45	BREAK
10:45 - 12:00	KEYNOTE: Dr. Laura Mosqueda, "Is this Elder Abuse or Is This Old Age?"
12:00 - 1:30	LUNCH ON YOUR OWN

BREAK-OUT SESSIONS
	TRACK 1	TRACK 2	LAW ENFORCEMENT TRACK
1:30 - 2:45	Getting to the Heart of Intimacy: A Curriculum for Providers PART 1 (continuing) Nyla McCarthy , Director, Catalysts for Change Consulting	Sexual Victimization of Adults with Developmental Disabilities Dr. Holly Ramsey-Klawnsnik , Ph.D.	Protecting Vulnerable Adults through Collaboration and Cooperation: APS and Law Enforcement Margaret Kennedy , Assistant Attorney General Nadia Fiorini , Seattle Police Detective
2:45 - 3:00	BREAK
3:00 - 4:15	Getting to the Heart of Intimacy: A Curriculum for Providers PART 2 Nyla McCarthy	Consider the Hidden: The Overlooked Impact of Abuse on Elder Victims Scott Ikata , Clark County Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Dianna Kretzschmar , Elder Justice Center Program Coordinator, Clark County Prosecutor's Office	Understanding, Investigating, and Prosecuting Cases of Undue Influence Page Ulrey , King County Senior DPA Kathy Van Olst , King County Senior DPA
	*ROOM C101 / C102 will be open with community resources.

SPEAKER	TITLE	DESCRIPTION
Elizabeth Loewy , Attorney in Charge of the Elder Abuse Unit under New York County District Attorney Cyrus R. Vance, Jr.	To Catch a Thief: Prosecuting Financial Elder Abuse	A recent study showed that financial losses to exploited seniors in the US could be as high as $2.9 billion a year. These abusers include family members, friends, aides and fiduciaries. Many victims, like the late philanthropist Brooke Astor, are vulnerable because of physical or cognitive impairment. As the aging population explodes, and with no cure for Alzheimer's Disease in the offing, we must step-up efforts to detect, prevent and prosecute this insidious crime.
Dr. Laura Mosqueda, M.D. is the Chair of Family Medicine and holds the Ronald W. Reagan Endowed Chair in Geriatrics the University of California, Irvine School of Medicine.	Is this Elder Abuse or Is this Old Age?	Bruises, fractures, sores, falls, confusion.... All are commonly seen in older adults. How do we distinguish when markers such as these are due to benign causes versus abuse or neglect? In this session we will explore normal and common age-related changes and discuss the ways in which this knowledge may be used to discern when abuse or neglect may be the primary causative factor. We will discuss the importance of context in making this determination and specific contextual factors that ought to be understood in every suspected case of abuse or neglect.
Nyla McCarthy , Director, Catalysts for Change Consulting.	Getting to the Heart of Intimacy: A Curriculum for Providers	Sexuality among people with intellectual disabilities is a complex topic. This workshop presented in two parts is a nationally acclaimed curriculum which emphasizes risk reduction and promotes healthy sexuality.
Dr. Holly Ramsey-Klawnsnik of Klawnsnik & Klawnsnik Associates in Canton, MA, holds a Ph.D. in Sociology and a Certificate in the Study of Aging from Boston University. She is a researcher, Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist, and Licensed Certified Social Worker.	Sexual Victimization of Adults with Developmental Disabilities	In this workshop, a variety of actual cases will be discussed with a focus on challenges faced by professionals in responding to alleged and confirmed sexual assault within both community and facility settings. Strategies for effective investigation will be presented, along with issues to be considered in intervening to assist victims and hold perpetrators accountable.
Margaret Kennedy , Washington State Assistant Attorney General; Nadia Fiorini , Seattle Police Detective	Protecting Vulnerable Adults through Collaboration and Cooperation: APS and Law Enforcement	How do APS and various law enforcement agencies work together to protect vulnerable adults who may be abused, neglected, or financially exploited? The answer to this question varies greatly depending on what jurisdiction the vulnerable adult resides in. This presentation will explore some of the ways that APS and law enforcement currently work together through collaboration and cooperation to protect vulnerable adults. It will also include discussion of ways that APS and law enforcement could increase the effectiveness of their efforts in this area.
Scott Ikata , Clark County Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Dianna Kretzschmar , Elder Justice Center Program Coordinator, Clark County Prosecutor's Office	Consider the Hidden: The Overlooked Impact of Abuse on Elder Victims	The true impact of elder abuse is often hidden from view. Seniors may experience loss of financial resources, physical abuse, and neglect through criminal acts of others. While the immediate effects of these crimes are obvious, the true impact of even "minor" crimes on elderly victims are frequently hidden and unrecognized. Elderly victims suffer through loss of self esteem, loss of a willingness to thrive and ultimately, loss of life due to criminal acts of others where young people may be minimally impacted. We must recognize that major impacts can occur through minor crimes and work to minimize them through appropriately dealing with our victims by simple changes in our approach to their cases
Page Ulrey , King County Senior DPA; Kathy Van Olst , King County Senior DPA	Understanding, Investigating, and Prosecuting Cases of Undue Influence	This workshop will define undue influence and explain the way it is used by an elder abuse perpetrator to over-come the free will of a vulnerable victim in cases of financial exploitation. The session will address warning signs of undue influence, and strategies for effectively investigating and prosecuting these difficult cases. Participants will learn how these teaching points are applied through discussion of a recent King County criminal case.

7:45 - 8:45	REGISTER & CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST
8:45 - 9:00	WELCOME - Tina Orwall, 33rd Legislative District, Washington State House of Representatives
9:00 - 10:30	KEYNOTE: Dr. Holly Ramsey-Klawnsnik, Ph.D., "What's Age Got to Do With It? Sexual Assault in Later Life."
10:30 - 10:45	BREAK
10:45 - 12:00	KEYNOTE: Ricker Hamilton, "Victim-Centered Collaboration."
12:00 - 1:30	LUNCH ON YOUR OWN

BREAK-OUT SESSIONS
	TRACK 1	TRACK 2	LAW ENFORCEMENT TRACK
1:30 - 2:45	The Good, Bad and Ugly of Guardianship: Strategies for Change Ana Fortson-Kemmerer , Coordinator, Spokane County Guardianship Monitoring Program, David Lord , Public Policy Director, Disability Rights Washington Robert B. Nettleton , Neil, Nettleton & Neil, P.S.	Elder Fraud: New Evidence on the Demographics and Behaviors of Its Victims. Doug Shadel , State Director for AARP Washington.	How Banks Can Assist Law Enforcement in Elder Financial Exploitation Investigations Catherine Hoover , Assistant Attorney General
2:45 - 3:00	BREAK
3:00 - 4:15	Strategies for Interviewing People with Dementia Shanti Potts BS MS	The Dynamics of Elder Abuse Ricker Hamilton , Program Administrator for Protective Services in Adult Protective Services, Maine Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Elder Services	How to Understand and Summarize Financial Documents: A Guide for Detectives and Investigators Rebecca Tyrrell , Financial Analyst, King County Prosecutor's Office
*ROOM C101 / C102 will be open with community resources.

SPEAKER	TITLE	DESCRIPTION
Dr. Holly Ramsey-Klawnsnik of Klawnsnik & Klawnsnik Associates in Canton, MA, holds a Ph.D. in Sociology and a Certificate in the Study of Aging from Boston University. She is a researcher, Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist, and Licensed Certified Social Worker.	What's Age Got to Do With It? Sexual Assault in Later Life.	This session will present research and clinical findings regarding sexual assault during later life, addressing victimization within families, communities, and care facilities. Findings to be discussed include: the gender and age of victims and perpetrators, assault acts, victim vulnerabilities, ways in which perpetrators gain access to victims, impact of sexual assault on elders, investigation and intervention strategies, and case outcomes. Illustrative cases will be presented and policy and practice implications will be addressed.
Ricker Hamilton , Program Administrator for Protective Services in Adult Protective Services, Maine Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Elder Services.	Victim-Centered Collaboration	This session will be a discussion about enhanced collaboration and examples of some promising practices. A discussion of common challenges and some community responses like elder fatality review teams and specific elder abuse training at criminal justice academies.
Ana Fortson-Kemmerer , Coordinator, Spokane County Guardianship Monitoring Program; David Lord , Public Policy Director, Disability Rights Washington; Robert B. Nettleton , Neil, Nettleton & Neil, P.S.	The Good, Bad and Ugly of Guardianship: Strategies for Change	Abuse and exploitation can occur in any context, even where there is a guardian appointed to protect the individual. Recently, stories in the media, reports, and testimony from family members has resulted in controversy and action in the Legislature. This panel presentation will discuss problems that can occur in guardianships, and steps that can be taken to prevent and respond to abuse and exploitation. The panel will consider recent changes in state law and policy and proposals for additional changes. Panelists include an attorney with extensive experience with guardianship, a public policy advocate, and the director of a guardianship monitoring program.
Doug Shadel , State Director for AARP Washington	Elder Fraud: New Evidence on the Demographics and Behaviors of Its Victims	This is a summary of a new study completed by the AARP Foundation that surveyed 723 known fraud victims and 1500 members of the general public and asked a broad range of questions about demographics, behaviors, living situation and psychological preferences.
Catherine Hoover , Washington State Assistant Attorney General	How Banks Can Assist Law Enforcement in Elder Financial Exploitation Investigations	This session will cover the new law and other legal and practical tools financial institutions now have to combat financial exploitation of vulnerable adults and work cooperatively with APS, law enforcement, and prosecuting attorneys.
Shanti Potts , BS MS.	Strategies for Interviewing People with Dementia	In this session we will explore what happens to the brain of a person with dementia and consider the various techniques a person with dementia uses to cope and compensate as a result of these brain changes.
Ricker Hamilton (See Above)	The Dynamics of Elder Abuse	This workshop will address the dynamics between victims and offenders in elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation cases. Special focus will be given to the role that Adult Protective Services can provide in assisting other agencies in understanding and effectively handling these dynamics.
Rebecca Tyrrell , Financial Analyst, King County Prosecuting Attorney's Office.	How to Understand and Summarize Financial Documents: A Guide for Detectives and Investigators	This workshop features an actual elder theft case study that will demonstrate how Excel can quickly move your investigation forward, and will teach basic Excel skills. Includes tips on how to decipher information contained in financial documents.